

The play equipment, the first time we heard about it everyone was looking forward to seeing and playing on it. Everyone wondered and imagined what it would be like if we had play equipment. From ziplines, to treehouses we all wondered and thought of our ideas, some even put together their work to create a masterpiece. When the builders came, we were all excited. We were going to get our very own play equipment to play and laugh on.

It was before Christmas when the magic started to happen, first it was the boat. The boat has a good design, smooth wood, climbable parts and parts that you can relax on. Although it has its doubts, if I'm honest the boat doesn't really look like a boat, more of a sunken one underground. I wonder if there's half the boat down there.

It was after January that we started to get the "bird boxes". We were all paying close attention during assemblies for any new climbing frames to play on during lunch and break, it was until we got shown the pictures of the boxes, everyone was excited for what our second playable thing would be. We all waited a very long time until they started the construction. It wasn't all good though, we had nowhere to eat our lunch because of the very little space that we had. It was after a few weeks that we finally got introduced to the "bird boxes" as they were very good. But what I don't like about them is that they have quite a small room inside of them, that they have only four of them and that it gets boring after a while because of how little space we had.

Although that wasn't it all, on the "little playground" there was a shelter type thing for the little children if it was raining/sunny, it actually looked quite cool especially how it was really big and tall. I think that you can fit a whole class or two inside of there. Another thing is, is that we as Year Six won't get to see it for long as we are going up to high school.

In conclusion, the play equipment was really good and the builders worked hard on it. Nonetheless they can also be bad but that doesn't make it a not a part of the school.

I give:

Bird Boxes five stars

Pirate ship two stars

The shelter has five stars.
